

PRIVACY POLICY

DUPIXENT Patient Assistance Program (DuPAP) is operated by DKSH Singapore Pte Ltd ("DKSH"). At DKSH, we are committed to respecting and safeguarding your privacy by handling your personal data responsibly and in accordance with applicable laws. By accessing or using the DuPAP service offerings and features on dupap.dkshpsp.com.sg (the "Site"), and any components that support the functionality of the services (the "Services"), as further defined in our Terms and Conditions dupap.dkshpsp.com.sg, you expressly consent to the collection, processing, use and disclosure of your personal data according to this Privacy Policy. DKSH may share your personal data with our affiliates, group companies, subsidiaries and other authorized third parties solely for the purposes described herein. This Privacy Policy is aimed at giving you transparency about how we collect, use, and keep your personal data safe, and what your rights are under the Personal Data Protection Act 2012 (PDPA).

1. What personal data about you do we collect?

DKSH collects and uses certain types of personal data about you, depending on the relationship that you have with us as well as applicable laws. In order to access the Site and to use DuPAP, you will be asked to provide certain personal data. We may collect the following personal data about you:

Personal data category	Types of personal data
Usage information	Information regarding your mobile telephone, your computer, your IP address, the type of Internet browser you are using, the location from which you are visiting the Site, or the areas of the Site you visited and the actions you performed on the Site.

2. How we collect your personal data.

We may collect your personal data through the following methods:

Collection method	Description
Directly from you	Including when you communicate with us over the telephone, in person, through the Site, forms, surveys, or by email; when you make an inquiry, complaint or report an actual or suspected adverse event; when you use our information services; when you attend a DKSH event; when you agree to other specific terms, privacy policies and/or consent forms required by DKSH,
Through your use of the Site	Including through the use of "cookies" that store information on your computer, mobile phone or other device, and though other tracking technologies like tags, pixels, clear pixels, gifs, bugs, beacons, and other similar technologies.
Through third parties	Including from organizations carrying out functions on our behalf such as event management organizations and data analytics organizations; pharmaceutical companies and medical device companies; hospitals and other healthcare service providers or professionals; government authorities and regulators; professional membership bodies; online directories; insurers, banks and financial institutions.

3. Why do we collect, use and disclose your personal data?

We may collect, use and disclose your personal data for the following reasons, and any other reasons which corresponds or are similar to these reasons:

Reason	Description
Provision of the Site	This includes the provision of our services to you based on our contractual obligations, to process and respond to your applications, requests, comments, inquiries, reports, complaints, and other forms you submit through the Site.
Facilitating our interactions with you	This includes maintaining our business relationship by providing you with information related to our products and services, sales and delivery of products, performing any contract with you or as agreed by you. If you are a healthcare professional, we may also use our personal data to provide information to you on educational opportunities relevant to your field, and to invite you to educational events that are relevant to your field.
Managing our relationship	This includes managing our product and service delivery, related financial transactions including invoicing for services, and carrying out quality reporting concerning our products.
Complying with legal requirements and DKSH policies	This includes processing your personal data for income tax and national insurance deductions, record-keeping and reporting obligations, conducting audits, complying with inspections and other requests from law enforcement or other public authorities; ensuring pharmaceutical business and pharmacovigilance compliance; reporting adverse events; responding to legal processes such as subpoenas and court orders; pursuing legal rights and remedies; enforcing or applying our Terms and Conditions and other agreements; defending litigation and managing any internal complaints or claims, etc.
